Dear Friends,

Some two years ago at the beginning of the year (January, 2007) I listed a few miracles I felt God was telling me He wanted to see happen using me. I say miracles, because none of them could happen with me alone doing it. In the Testament the word “miracle” meant something different that it does today. Back then, a miracle was something that could not happen without Divine Intervention. Like the birth of Christ. That’s what I mean here – none of these things God was telling me for my life could happen without Divine Intervention. This book was one of those, and it finally came together. I’ll tell you another secret. God usually moves in ways to emphasize our need for others, to move us away from our own independence. God wants to do miraculous things today, but these things always seem to involve others. Once the miracle happens, God wants us to tell the story so others can come to know Him. That’s why this book had to tell stories. It’s a leadership book with stories about what God is doing.

Once I started the book I got stuck in the third chapter, and a friend helped me to see where and how I had to go from that. Then the economic system crashed and I realized I really had to refocus the book and start over. Although much of the original material stayed there, the book is now focused on a very real issue – the failure of leadership in all areas of our culture – business, political, health systems, education, and even the church. Lots of leadership books are out there, but very few get to the heart of the issue – the heart. Remember when those friends of Nehemiah came to him after researching the Jerusalem area, all of them had the same information but Nehemiah was the only one that carried a burden for the hearts of the returning Jews and prayed and fasted for four months. He had to, with God’s help, rescue their hearts. And rescuing the human heart is the most difficult job on the face of the earth. God should know. He’s been doing it a few years. Why not order the book now or as a gift? We expect to sell out the first shipment. Shipping is approximately second week of the new year or sooner.

Blessings!

Carl Townsend
